

MRS. P. I. COLLINS KILLED BY AUTO

Victim of Last Night's Accident
Is Identified by Friends
Today.

POST OFFICE EMPLOYEE
NATIVE OF MISSISSIPPI

Chauffeur Held for Action of Grand Jury at Coroner's Inquest
This Morning.

MRS. PATTIE LYLE COLLINS.

Mrs. Pattie Lyle Collins, sixty-five years old, who was employed as the chauffeur in the dead letter division of the Post Office Department, and who was familiarly known as "Mother Santa Claus" and the "Blind Reader," was killed last night by an automobile while on her way to her apartment in the Rochambeau.

The accident happened when the automobile, driven by Charles Draughn, her colored chauffeur, was driving the car. Draughn was arrested and held in custody, and this morning he was at the inquest which was held at police headquarters.

Witnesses, relating the story of the accident, told of how Mrs. Collins stepped from the pavement on the park side of H street and started north and was struck by the automobile. It was stated that the street was wet and that the automobile skidded about fifty feet after Draughn applied the brakes.

No Skid Chains on Tires.

One wheel of the vehicle passed over Mrs. Collins. Her liver and stomach were ruptured, and death resulted from loss of blood and shock. Draughn stated that he did not have skid chains on his tires.

The chauffeur declared that the automobile was going at not more than six or eight miles an hour when Mrs. Collins was struck. He got out of the machine and did what he could to assist in caring for the injured woman. Members of the jury took an active part in the examination of witnesses. The jurors were not satisfied that the accident was one which could not have been avoided, and Draughn was held for the action of the grand jury. Unless bound for his appearance in court is given Draughn will be sent to jail. The charge against him probably will be manslaughter.

Mrs. Collins probably was one of the best known woman clerks in the government employ. She was a native of Mississippi and had been in government service since July, 1909. In addition to her government employment, she devoted much time to magazine and newspaper work. Numbered among her newspaper friends were Judge Beauregard Bryan of Texas, Isham G. Harris, a former senator from Tennessee, and former Senator Lamar, Wallhall and George of Mississippi.

Known as Mother Santa Claus.

It was because of her work in handling the Santa Claus mail, it is stated, that Mrs. Collins had become so well known as "Mother Santa Claus," and her ability to decipher much of the mail that others could not read suggested her as the "blind reader."

Mrs. Collins left the dead letter office yesterday with another clerk and walked as far as F street, they separating only about thirty minutes before the accident happened. She made a few purchases of candy to give children for Christmas and was crossing at Avenue of the Presidents and H street when she was killed.

Last night the police were unable to get the body identified. This morning, however, it was identified by a friend and was taken to the morgue. Mrs. Collins was a member of the First Church of Christ Scientist, and had accepted an invitation to eat her Christmas dinner with Mr. Hayes' family.

Lieut. Commander Frank B. Zahn, U. S. N., stationed in New York, is a son-in-law of the deceased. A son of Mrs. Collins resides in Cuba. Her son and Mrs. Zahn, her daughter, were notified of her death.

SCHOOL WITHIN A PRISON.

Cabell County, W. Va., Jail Inmates

Taught by Fellow-Convict.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., December 24.—

A school within a prison is a fact in the Cabell county jail here when every day C. V. Fitch, a veteran school teacher of Eastern Kentucky and a prisoner himself, instructs a class of twenty mountaineers, all serving terms for "moonshining," in the fundamentals of school work. Already the rough mountaineers have progressed as far as the "third reader."

The majority of the class could neither read nor write when they began their terms.

Now all have acquired the groundwork of reading, writing, spelling and arithmetic. Fitch is proud of his class and hopes to teach them to lead better lives as well as instruct them in the fundamentals of an education.

Most of the prisoners buy their own books. Those who cannot bear the expense are supplied free by Jailer W. S. Debord.

Doylestown, Pa., Fire Loss, $85,000.

DOYLESTOWN, Pa., December 24.—

A triangular business block here formed by Main, Ashland and Clinton streets was destroyed by fire today. Among the places burned were the Doylestown Agricultural Company's establishment, hardware store of Joseph Barrett, agricultural implement store of C. P. Sellner and a stable. Several dwellings were damaged by fire and water. The loss is estimated at $85,000.

Government Drops Beer Case.

NEW YORK, December 24.—Announcement was made today that the government had withdrawn its case against Victor Neustadt, a prominent beer importer arrested recently on a charge of conspiracy to defraud by undervaluing imported beer. The complaint was therefore dismissed and books and papers of the importing firm which had been seized by the government were released.

Work of the same kind was done at the recent Saul building fire. Both Dr. Kelly and Dr. King were taken to the hospital by ambulance and were both treated. Both were praised for their endeavors.

Police patrols and an ambulance from Emergency Hospital and from Casualty Hospital were waiting for the injured men, and all were taken to Emergency Hospital rapidly as they were freed.

Members of the families of several of them had been summoned previously and were present when they were taken to the hospital. At the hospital, all held family reunions. The men, on adjoining cots, laughed and joked all night long, and near they had been to death.

The cause of the fire has not been learned. Sergeant Gatts and Policeman Thompson of the first precinct were in the vicinity, and took charge before the arrival of the firemen. The three alarms brought engines Nos. 16, 4, 6, 2, 3, 18, 7, 8, and 12 trucks 3, 1, 7, 4, and 10 and the water tower. Fire Chief Wagner, Deputy Chief Sullivan and Third Battalion Chief Proctor also were present.

Deputy Chief Sullivan, who has been a fireman for thirty-five years, was on the scene within two or three minutes after the first alarm was sounded, and said later that it was as hot a fire as he has ever seen.

Heavy Property Damage.

Practically the entire contents of the American Five and Ten Cent store, owned by C. E. Harter, were destroyed. The building is owned by J. S. Justh. Some damage by smoke and water was done to the Family Shoe store, at 310 7th street, and to Everybody's Shoe store, on the second and third floors of the Lincoln National Bank building. The only damage done to the bank was in the basement, where water ruined a large quantity of stationery.

The fire was fought partly from the roof and windows of S. Kann, Sons & Co., and a bursting hose did some damage to that store.

The estimated losses in the two fires are as follows: Burning of the American Five and Ten Cent store, $33,000; stock and building at Everybody's Shoe store, $2,000; stock and building at Lincoln National Bank, $100; Family Shoe store, $5,000; Fred S. Glickner, $5,000. Later in the morning the fire fire had been extinguished. Isabel Stanford, a young girl, living at 746 6th street, northwest, was slightly injured when a falling piece of glass cut her wrist as she was walking in front of the store. She was taken to Emergency Hospital, but refused treatment.

Good Material for Flames.

It was just 5:30 o'clock when the fire in the building on Main and works plant of Fred S. Glickner, at 1214 and 1216 D street northwest, only two doors from the quarters of No. 16 engine company, was discovered. Nos. 9 and 11 engine companies responded to the first alarm and to Everybody's Shoe store, on the second and third floors were sounded.

Had a fire occurred in East Washington about that time, fire department officials say, the chemical company from the Highland, the company that has been called upon to protect that part of the city.

It is thought the fire in the Glickner establishment started on an upper floor, and the amount of grease and oil in

SCENE OF EARLY MORNING FIRE AND MEN INJURED FIGHTING THE FLAMES

No. 1—American Five and Ten Cent Store, 314-316 7th street.
No. 2—The damaged interior of building; cross indicated where firemen were placed in by falling wall.
No. 3—F. M. Dyer.
No. 4—C. B. Laanhan.
No. 5—F. Hellmuth.
No. 6—C. B. Birch.
No. 7—W. A. Schwerdtfeger.

HEADING FIREMEN CLOSE TO DEATH IN BLAZING RUIN

(Continued from First Page.)

taking his day off, find out what men were inside. Inquiry brought out the terrifying fact that the five men had not been seen for more than an hour.

The chief shouted orders and the firemen began to work. The fire was in a coal bunker in the engine room, fully 200 feet from the main building, and there was no reason to fear the inmates would be rendered homeless. No damage resulted.

Firemen next night responded to an alarm sounded from box 243 for a fire in the store of R. B. Stewart, 1722 14th street northwest. The fire was of unknown origin and about $150 damage resulted. The building is owned by the Washington Loan and Trust Company.

Two Other Alarms.

No. 20 engine company yesterday afternoon went to the National Training School for Girls, Nebraska avenue and Conduit road, and extinguished a small fire. The fire was in a coal bunker in the engine room, fully 200 feet from the main building, and there was no reason to fear the inmates would be rendered homeless. No damage resulted.

Firemen next night responded to an alarm sounded from box 243 for a fire in the store of R. B. Stewart, 1722 14th street northwest. The fire was of unknown origin and about $150 damage resulted. The building is owned by the Washington Loan and Trust Company.

Given First-Aid Treatment.

Fireman Lanahan was the first of the imprisoned men discovered. Drs. Kelly and King of Casualty Hospital and Police Surgeons Brandenburg, Richards and Lawson crawled into the debris and administered restoratives to the weakened men.

Work of the same kind was done at the recent Saul building fire. Both Dr. Kelly and Dr. King were taken to the hospital by ambulance and were both treated. Both were praised for their endeavors.

Police patrols and an ambulance from Emergency Hospital and from Casualty Hospital were waiting for the injured men, and all were taken to Emergency Hospital rapidly as they were freed.

Members of the families of several of them had been summoned previously and were present when they were taken to the hospital. At the hospital, all held family reunions. The men, on adjoining cots, laughed and joked all night long, and near they had been to death.

The cause of the fire has not been learned. Sergeant Gatts and Policeman Thompson of the first precinct were in the vicinity, and took charge before the arrival of the firemen. The three alarms brought engines Nos. 16, 4, 6, 2, 3, 18, 7, 8, and 12 trucks 3, 1, 7, 4, and 10 and the water tower. Fire Chief Wagner, Deputy Chief Sullivan and Third Battalion Chief Proctor also were present.

Deputy Chief Sullivan, who has been a fireman for thirty-five years, was on the scene within two or three minutes after the first alarm was sounded, and said later that it was as hot a fire as he has ever seen.

Heavy Property Damage.

Practically the entire contents of the American Five and Ten Cent store, owned by C. E. Harter, were destroyed. The building is owned by J. S. Justh. Some damage by smoke and water was done to the Family Shoe store, at 310 7th street, and to Everybody's Shoe store, on the second and third floors of the Lincoln National Bank building. The only damage done to the bank was in the basement, where water ruined a large quantity of stationery.

The fire was fought partly from the roof and windows of S. Kann, Sons & Co., and a bursting hose did some damage to that store.

The estimated losses in the two fires are as follows: Burning of the American Five and Ten Cent store, $33,000; stock and building at Everybody's Shoe store, $2,000; stock and building at Lincoln National Bank, $100; Family Shoe store, $5,000; Fred S. Glickner, $5,000. Later in the morning the fire fire had been extinguished. Isabel Stanford, a young girl, living at 746 6th street, northwest, was slightly injured when a falling piece of glass cut her wrist as she was walking in front of the store. She was taken to Emergency Hospital, but refused treatment.

Good Material for Flames.

It was just 5:30 o'clock when the fire in the building on Main and works plant of Fred S. Glickner, at 1214 and 1216 D street northwest, only two doors from the quarters of No. 16 engine company, was discovered. Nos. 9 and 11 engine companies responded to the first alarm and to Everybody's Shoe store, on the second and third floors were sounded.

Had a fire occurred in East Washington about that time, fire department officials say, the chemical company from the Highland, the company that has been called upon to protect that part of the city.

It is thought the fire in the Glickner establishment started on an upper floor, and the amount of grease and oil in

No. 1—American Five and Ten Cent Store, 314-316 7th street.
No. 2—The damaged interior of building; cross indicated where firemen were placed in by falling wall.
No. 3—F. M. Dyer.
No. 4—C. B. Laanhan.
No. 5—F. Hellmuth.
No. 6—C. B. Birch.
No. 7—W. A. Schwerdtfeger.

HEADING FIREMEN CLOSE TO DEATH IN BLAZING RUIN

(Continued from First Page.)

taking his day off, find out what men were inside. Inquiry brought out the terrifying fact that the five men had not been seen for more than an hour.

The chief shouted orders and the firemen began to work. The fire was in a coal bunker in the engine room, fully 200 feet from the main building, and there was no reason to fear the inmates would be rendered homeless. No damage resulted.

Firemen next night responded to an alarm sounded from box 243 for a fire in the store of R. B. Stewart, 1722 14th street northwest. The fire was of unknown origin and about $150 damage resulted. The building is owned by the Washington Loan and Trust Company.

Two Other Alarms.

No. 20 engine company yesterday afternoon went to the National Training School for Girls, Nebraska avenue and Conduit road, and extinguished a small fire. The fire was in a coal bunker in the engine room, fully 200 feet from the main building, and there was no reason to fear the inmates would be rendered homeless. No damage resulted.

Firemen next night responded to an alarm sounded from box 243 for a fire in the store of R. B. Stewart, 1722 14th street northwest. The fire was of unknown origin and about $150 damage resulted. The building is owned by the Washington Loan and Trust Company.

Given First-Aid Treatment.

Fireman Lanahan was the first of the imprisoned men discovered. Drs. Kelly and King of Casualty Hospital and Police Surgeons Brandenburg, Richards and Lawson crawled into the debris and administered restoratives to the weakened men.

Work of the same kind was done at the recent Saul building fire. Both Dr. Kelly and Dr. King were taken to the hospital by ambulance and were both treated. Both were praised for their endeavors.

Police patrols and an ambulance from Emergency Hospital and from Casualty Hospital were waiting for the injured men, and all were taken to Emergency Hospital rapidly as they were freed.

Members of the families of several of them had been summoned previously and were present when they were taken to the hospital. At the hospital, all held family reunions. The men, on adjoining cots, laughed and joked all night long, and near they had been to death.

The cause of the fire has not been learned. Sergeant Gatts and Policeman Thompson of the first precinct were in the vicinity, and took charge before the arrival of the firemen. The three alarms brought engines Nos. 16, 4, 6, 2, 3, 18, 7, 8, and 12 trucks 3, 1, 7, 4, and 10 and the water tower. Fire Chief Wagner, Deputy Chief Sullivan and Third Battalion Chief Proctor also were present.

Deputy Chief Sullivan, who has been a fireman for thirty-five years, was on the scene within two or three minutes after the first alarm was sounded, and said later that it was as hot a fire as he has ever seen.

Heavy Property Damage.

Practically the entire contents of the American Five and Ten Cent store, owned by C. E. Harter, were destroyed. The building is owned by J. S. Justh. Some damage by smoke and water was done to the Family Shoe store, at 310 7th street, and to Everybody's Shoe store, on the second and third floors of the Lincoln National Bank building. The only damage done to the bank was in the basement, where water ruined a large quantity of stationery.

The fire was fought partly from the roof and windows of S. Kann, Sons & Co., and a bursting hose did some damage to that store.

The estimated losses in the two fires are as follows: Burning of the American Five and Ten Cent store, $33,000; stock and building at Everybody's Shoe store, $2,000; stock and building at Lincoln National Bank, $100; Family Shoe store, $5,000; Fred S. Glickner, $5,000. Later in the morning the fire fire had been extinguished. Isabel Stanford, a young girl, living at 746 6th street, northwest, was slightly injured when a falling piece of glass cut her wrist as she was walking in front of the store. She was taken to Emergency Hospital, but refused treatment.

Good Material for Flames.

It was just 5:30 o'clock when the fire in the building on Main and works plant of Fred S. Glickner, at 1214 and 1216 D street northwest, only two doors from the quarters of No. 16 engine company, was discovered. Nos. 9 and 11 engine companies responded to the first alarm and to Everybody's Shoe store, on the second and third floors were sounded.

Had a fire occurred in East Washington about that time, fire department officials say, the chemical company from the Highland, the company that has been called upon to protect that part of the city.

It is thought the fire in the Glickner establishment started on an upper floor, and the amount of grease and oil in

No. 1—American Five and Ten Cent Store, 314-316 7th street.
No. 2—The damaged interior of building; cross indicated where firemen were placed in by falling wall.
No. 3—F. M. Dyer.
No. 4—C. B. Laanhan.
No. 5—F. Hellmuth.
No. 6—C. B. Birch.
No. 7—W. A. Schwerdtfeger.

HEADING FIREMEN CLOSE TO DEATH IN BLAZING RUIN

(Continued from First Page.)

taking his day off, find out what men were inside. Inquiry brought out the terrifying fact that the five men had not been seen for more than an hour.

The chief shouted orders and the firemen began to work. The fire was in a coal bunker in the engine room, fully 200 feet from the main building, and there was no reason to fear the inmates would be rendered homeless. No damage resulted.

Firemen next night responded to an alarm sounded from box 243 for a fire in the store of R. B. Stewart, 1722 14th street northwest. The fire was of unknown origin and about $150 damage resulted. The building is owned by the Washington Loan and Trust Company.

Two Other Alarms.

No. 20 engine company yesterday afternoon went to the National Training School for Girls, Nebraska avenue and Conduit road, and extinguished a small fire. The fire was in a coal bunker in the engine room, fully 200 feet from the main building, and there was no reason to fear the inmates would be rendered homeless. No damage resulted.

Firemen next night responded to an alarm sounded from box 243 for a fire in the store of R. B. Stewart, 1722 14th street northwest. The fire was of unknown origin and about $150 damage resulted. The building is owned by the Washington Loan and Trust Company.

Given First-Aid Treatment.

Fireman Lanahan was the first of the imprisoned men discovered. Drs. Kelly and King of Casualty Hospital and Police Surgeons Brandenburg, Richards and Lawson crawled into the debris and administered restoratives to the weakened men.

Work of the same kind was done at the recent Saul building fire. Both Dr. Kelly and Dr. King were taken to the hospital by ambulance and were both treated. Both were praised for their endeavors.

Police patrols and an ambulance from Emergency Hospital and from Casualty Hospital were waiting for the injured men, and all were taken to Emergency Hospital rapidly as they were freed.

Members of the families of several of them had been summoned previously and were present when they were taken to the hospital. At the hospital, all held family reunions. The men, on adjoining cots, laughed and joked all night long, and near they had been to death.

The cause of the fire has not been learned. Sergeant Gatts and Policeman Thompson of the first precinct were in the vicinity, and took charge before the arrival of the firemen. The three alarms brought engines Nos. 16, 4, 6, 2, 3, 18, 7, 8, and 12 trucks 3, 1, 7, 4, and 10 and the water tower. Fire Chief Wagner, Deputy Chief Sullivan and Third Battalion Chief Proctor also were present.

Deputy Chief Sullivan, who has been a fireman for thirty-five years, was on the scene within two or three minutes after the first alarm was sounded, and said later that it was as hot a fire as he has ever seen.

Heavy Property Damage.

Practically the entire contents of the American Five and Ten Cent store, owned by C. E. Harter, were destroyed. The building is owned by J. S. Justh. Some damage by smoke and water was done to the Family Shoe store, at 310 7th street, and to Everybody's Shoe store, on the second and third floors of the Lincoln National Bank building. The only damage done to the bank was in the basement, where water ruined a large quantity of stationery.

The fire was fought partly from the roof and windows of S. Kann, Sons & Co., and a bursting hose did some damage to that store.

The estimated losses in the two fires are as follows: Burning of the American Five and Ten Cent store, $33,000; stock and building at Everybody's Shoe store, $2,000; stock and building at Lincoln National Bank, $100; Family Shoe store, $5,000; Fred S. Glickner, $5,000. Later in the morning the fire fire had been extinguished. Isabel Stanford, a young girl, living at 746 6th street, northwest, was slightly injured when a falling piece of glass cut her wrist as she was walking in front of the store. She was taken to Emergency Hospital, but refused treatment.

Good Material for Flames.

It was just 5:30 o'clock when the fire in the building on Main and works plant of Fred S. Glickner, at 1214 and 1216 D street northwest, only two doors from the quarters of No. 16 engine company, was discovered. Nos. 9 and 11 engine companies responded to the first alarm and to Everybody's Shoe store, on the second and third floors were sounded.

Had a fire occurred in East Washington about that time, fire department officials say, the chemical company from the Highland, the company that has been called upon to protect that part of the city.

It is thought the fire in the Glickner establishment started on an upper floor, and the amount of grease and oil in

No. 1—American Five and Ten Cent Store, 314-316 7th street.
No. 2—The damaged interior of building; cross indicated where firemen were placed in by falling wall.
No. 3—F. M. Dyer.
No. 4—C. B. Laanhan.
No. 5—F. Hellmuth.
No. 6—C. B. Birch.
No. 7—W. A. Schwerdtfeger.

HEADING FIREMEN CLOSE TO DEATH IN BLAZING RUIN

(Continued from First Page.)

taking his day off, find out what men were inside. Inquiry brought out the terrifying fact that the five men had not been seen for more than an hour.

The chief shouted orders and the firemen began to work. The fire was in a coal bunker in the engine room, fully 200 feet from the main building, and there was no reason to fear the inmates would be rendered homeless. No damage resulted.

Firemen next night responded to an alarm sounded from box 243 for a fire in the store of R. B. Stewart, 1722 14th street northwest. The fire was of unknown origin and about $150 damage resulted. The building is owned by the Washington Loan and Trust Company.

Two Other Alarms.

No. 20 engine company yesterday afternoon went to the National Training School for Girls, Nebraska avenue and Conduit road, and extinguished a small fire. The fire was in a coal bunker in the engine room, fully 200 feet from the main building, and there was no reason to fear the inmates would be rendered homeless. No damage resulted.

Firemen next night responded to an alarm sounded from box 243 for a fire in the store of R. B. Stewart, 1722 14th street northwest. The fire was of unknown origin and about $150 damage resulted. The building is owned by the Washington Loan and Trust Company.

Given First-Aid Treatment.

Fireman Lanahan was the first of the imprisoned men discovered. Drs. Kelly and King of Casualty Hospital and Police Surgeons Brandenburg, Richards and Lawson crawled into the debris and administered restoratives to the weakened men.

Work of the same kind was done at the recent Saul building fire. Both Dr. Kelly and Dr. King were taken to the hospital by ambulance and were both treated. Both were praised for their endeavors.

Police patrols and an ambulance from Emergency Hospital and from Casualty Hospital were waiting for the injured men, and all were taken to Emergency Hospital rapidly as they were freed.

Members of the families of several of them had been summoned previously and were present when they were taken to the hospital. At the hospital, all held family reunions. The men, on adjoining cots, laughed and joked all night long, and near they had been to death.

The cause of the fire has not been learned. Sergeant Gatts and Policeman Thompson of the first precinct were in the vicinity, and took charge before the arrival of the firemen. The three alarms brought engines Nos. 16, 4, 6, 2, 3, 18, 7, 8, and 12 trucks 3, 1, 7, 4, and 10 and the water tower. Fire Chief Wagner, Deputy Chief Sullivan and Third Battalion Chief Proctor also were present.

Deputy Chief Sullivan, who has been a fireman for thirty-five years, was on the scene within two or three minutes after the first alarm was sounded, and said later that it was as hot a fire as he has ever seen.

Heavy Property Damage.

Practically the entire contents of the American Five and Ten Cent store, owned by C. E. Harter, were destroyed. The building is owned by J. S. Justh. Some damage by smoke and water was done to the Family Shoe store, at 310 7th street, and to Everybody's Shoe store, on the second and third floors of the Lincoln National Bank building. The only damage done to the bank was in the basement, where water ruined a large quantity of stationery.

The fire was fought partly from the roof and windows of S. Kann, Sons & Co., and a bursting hose did some damage to that store.

The estimated losses in the two fires are as follows: Burning of the American Five and Ten Cent store, $33,000; stock and building at Everybody's Shoe store, $2,000; stock and building at Lincoln National Bank, $100; Family Shoe store, $5,000; Fred S. Glickner, $5,000. Later in the morning the fire fire had been extinguished. Isabel Stanford, a young girl, living at 746 6th street, northwest, was slightly injured when a falling piece of glass cut her wrist as she was walking in front of the store. She was taken to Emergency Hospital, but refused treatment.

Good Material for Flames.

It was just 5:30 o'clock when the fire in the building on Main and works plant of Fred S. Glickner, at 1214 and 1216 D street northwest, only two doors from the quarters of No. 16 engine company, was discovered. Nos. 9 and 11 engine companies responded to the first alarm and to Everybody's Shoe store, on the second and third floors were sounded.

Had a fire occurred in East Washington about that time, fire department officials say, the chemical company from the Highland, the company that has been called upon to protect that part of the city.

It is thought the fire in the Glickner establishment started on an upper floor, and the amount of grease and oil in

QUACK DOCTOR SHOTS HEALTH BOARD LAWYER

Chicagoan Turns Gun on Self After Wounding Attorney's Assistant.

CHICAGO, December 24.—A sensational attempt on the life of Charles Alling, Jr., former alderman and now attorney for the state board of health, was made today by an alleged quack medical practitioner, Frank Klimek, who then turned his pistol